

Camp Jugendalp

Eigenthal, Central CH, Switzerland, 1070m
120 beds, from CHF 12.00

In a sunny location in Lucerne's Eigenthal, 1070 metres above sea level, the easily accessible camp house is surrounded by nature with a view of Mount Pilatus. The huge house offers children, teenagers and young adults countless possibilities for use, such as training camps, class camps, contemplative weekends, renovation projects, youth camps, theatre rehearsals or class parties. The renovations of recent years offer good comfort and meet high ecological standards without losing the charm of the house. For example, there is an indoor bouldering facility. There is a forest and play area around the house. The house is also constantly being developed and can even be co-designed by users. The youth centre for self-caterers is located 15 minutes from the Postbus station. Lucerne, with all its attractions such as the Swiss Museum of Transport, is 15 kilometres away. The area also offers countless opportunities for short and long hikes, including a section of the Pilatus railway with a rope park, toboggan run and moorland. A stream for playing is 500 metres away on the valley floor. The house is ideal for: Youth organisations, schools, children, teenagers and young adults.
